Devil's Den Rick McGinley: 1931-2019; WHS's All-Time TD Leader

By BRUCE JOHNSON
Specialty Written for The Westfield Leader and The Times

Rick McGinley: "No.40 will live in Westfield hearts forever."

In May 1950, Rick McGinley's senior essay was a "History of Football in Westfield."

McGinley noted in the preface: "It shall be the purpose of this paper to consolidate the history of the sport of football in the Westfield High School since 1911. The paper is a result of a search of the files of The Westfield Leader over a period of 38 years. It is the desire of the author that his paper may serve as background material for the future sports editors of the Hi's Eye and will prove of interest to the students in the school."

He acknowledged the assistance of Walter Lee, The Leader's owner/editor; Graham Beckel, a teacher at the high school who suggested the topic; and WHS football coach Joe Freeman, who helped him compile the statistics.

In his outline, McGinley went over many things, among them:

Before the high school formed a team (believed to be in 1897), some locals represented Westfield on Clark Field, located on East Broad Street, between Harrison and Euclid avenues.

Traditional games with Cranford caused ill feeling between the two towns.

Home games were played at Recreation Park, which is now the center of outdoor sports in town and is known as Recreation Field (now it's Gary Kehler Stadium).

Herbert 'Hub' Stine took over as

Birch and Harrison avenues.

Ed McGinley Jr. (an original New York Giant and Rick's father) was a referee of many WHS games.

Bob Duncan took over in 1929, replacing Howard Batten. In 1931, the largest crowd ever - 5,000 - saw Westfield beat Plainfield, which was now coached by Stine.

1933 brought about the construction of the scoreboard, which stands at Recreation Field.

Freeman replaced Duncan in 1941 and had an unbeaten team that won a state championship in his first year.

Rick McGinley penned a 1,500-word essay about the growth of the football in Westfield and in the state. He also picked a rather interesting all-Westfield Greats team.
