Terriers were unable to yield a base runner and lost 6-5.

"I knew it would be a closely contested game," said Westfield Coach Maggie McFadden. "When we went up 3-0, I thought we were in control of the game. I didn't expect them to score five runs."

Prior to the game, Westfield earned the top seed for the Union County Tournament. Westfield will host the winner of Roselle and Summit the Saturday.

Last season, the Blue Devils were eliminated early by Union Catholic.

"It would be nice to beat Union Catholic this year and knock them out of the tourney. I know that we can win the entire tournament if we play well," McFadden said.

JOSH WEXLER SCORES LONE RAIDER RUN IN 4TH Piscataway Chiefs 'No-Hit' Raider Baseballers, Win 11-1

By DAVID B. CORBIN Specially Written for The Westfield Leader and The Times

Playing a non-conference game against a tough Piscataway High School team and without the services of senior Tri-Captains Dave Baumwoll and Andrew Pavoni, Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School baseball Head Coach Brian Homm decided to give some of his younger pitchers some experience. What was experienced was an 11-1, five-inning, no-hit shutout at the hands of the Chiefs in Scotch Plains on April 26.

The Chiefs put the young Raiders in a hole quickly with seven runs in the top of the first inning. Raider starter, Steve Horn may have thought that things were going to be fine when Chief leadoff batter Eric Young tapped a grounder to short. Unfortunately, the throw to first was bad and Young glided to second. Young advanced to third on a passed ball, then scored on a sacrifice fly to right.

Instead of having the first two batters out, one run was in and there was only one out. From that point, Horn proceeded to yield the first of 13 Raider free passes. Five singles, including three straight, and three walks later, the Chiefs had the Raiders in a 7-0 hole.

"Horn looked pretty good the last couple of times he came in relief, so I figured I would give him a shot," explained Coach Homm. "But they scored seven quick runs so I went with Baker and D'Annunzio. You can't win ball games when you walk 13 guys. It was a little disappointing pitching today. Even though some of the younger kids came in to pitch, they have to throw strikes."

The closest the Raiders came to getting a base hit was in the bottom of the inning when Josh Wexler punched lied Horn late in the first inning, calmed the Chiefs' tomahawks until he granted three-straight walks in the third. Freshman Chris D'Annunzio relieved and walked in one run before quieting the Chiefs.

The Raiders' only run crossed in the fourth as a result of a walk, a a slow dribbler toward second and seemingly beat out the throw, but not according to the base umpire.

Sophomore Kyle Baker, who re-fielder's choice, two errors and a passed ball. After Jeff Hensal drew a walk, Wexler's grounder to short was muffed. Marcus Dockery grounder forced out Hensal at third as Wexler reached second. Wexler sped to third on a passed ball and darted home when pitcher Carlton Smith overthrew third.

D'Annunzio was effective in the third and fourth innings but ran into some heavy thunder in the fifth. Lead-off batter Andrew Campana, who had three RBI in the game, walked and Kwesi Mitchell crushed a two-run homer over the centerfield fence. Tony Danella followed with a solo homer near the same spot to put the 9-2 Chiefs ahead, 11-1.

Homm brought junior Steve Pietrucha in to relieve and he silenced the remainder of the Chiefs' thunder.

"He needed some work because he hasn't pitched in a while, so I brought him in," said Homm.

smashed her two-run homer deep to centerfield extending the lead to 4-0.

The Raiders came to life in the bottom of the third when freshman first baseman Taylor Cianciotti singled to center. Senior centerfielder Megan Reddington followed with a single. Ciancotti then scored on an errant throw to first base.

The Cardinals pecked away with three runs in the fifth. In the bottom of the sixth, Cianciotti connected with her second single but was left stranded.

After the game, the always upbeat and challenging, Manzi who leads the Raider softballers with innings pitched commented, "I try not to place the ball where they can get a lot of hits, because that's an error to me as a pitcher. It puts runners on the bases and scores runs, so I try to stay away from those situations. Additionally, I need to concentrate and work on becoming faster and getting better location. Mentally, we still make quite a few errors as a team, but no one is perfect. We just need to continue to come out with a positive attitude.

None of us get down on ourselves. We just take one inning at a time. If we have a bad inning, we come out with our heads up and work on playing better." Keeping their heads up, the Raiders annihilated host Plainfield, 16-3, on April 29. Manzi fanned nine Cardinals, Lindsay Pennella scored three runs and had two RBI and Shanayia Willis had a double, a single and two RBI.
