Shoplifting on Rise

Editor: Leader: It's the season for a spate of shoplifting, too—shoplifting.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation terms it the fastest-growing class in the nation which排骨繁忙 the United States at about 250,000.

Shoplifting is on the increase, reports show, and are becoming a major financial problem. New Jersey's Retail Merchants Association says that one out of every ten merchants suffered losses from shoplifting last year.

While merchants are ready and willing to prosecute, these people are not afraid to shoplift. Some have special trained spotters to watch for suspicious actions on non-paying "customers," and most continue to fight against the shoplifting, this illegal practice continues to grow here in Westfield, as well as in the state and country at large.

The world would be much better off if people could shoplift. It is a form of stealing that does not involve violence or risk to life. It is a simple way of obtaining goods that cannot be afforded. And a number of people say that it is the best form of social protest.

The number of students of the shoplifting problem is substantially the same as it is in any other form of stealing. It has been found that about 25% of all students have been shoplifting. However, the number of students who admit to stealing after being caught is only about 10%.

The number of students, however, who have tried to shoplift and been caught is much higher. It is estimated that about 50% of all students who have tried to shoplift have been caught.

The number of students who have been caught shoplifting is much higher than the number of students who admit to stealing. This is because many students who have tried to shoplift do not admit to it. They may be afraid of being caught or of getting a bad reputation.

AIR FILTERS - Carburetor air filters are important to the health of your engine system if it is in gas. Left unclean, the engine will be damaged. Chief Moran said that department mechanics use a checklist recommended by the International Motor Vehicle Organization. He suggested that every citizen also use this basic checklist:

ENGINE TUNE-UP - Inspect the battery, generator and electrical systems for dependable performance and make sure all fluids are clean and in severe weather.

ENGINE VACUUM - "Perfect" and dress shoes should be replaced every two years. Check and replace if necessary.

Appliances that are to be used frequently must be chosen with care. Question: Will this appliance meet a real need? Everyone's answer for the same appliance will differ. Question: How often it would be used, whether or not it can be used for more than one purpose, and whether or not it duplicates equipment already owned. Sometimes appliances can be a hassle. After all, even our tellers can't remember everybody. So now the National State Bank offers their EZ I.D. Cards to our checking account customers. To get your EZ I.D. Card, just come to the Bank at the Sign of the Ship and open a checking account. Or if you already have one with us, just go to our EZ I.D. Display.

Then the next time you cash a check for up to $100 at any of our 38 offices, just show your EZ I.D. Card and you won't have to pay a check for up to $100 at any of our 38 offices. It was just a two-buck belt. You didn't even need it. You even had enough bread to buy it. But, you lifted it instead. It was just for kicks.

What you didn't think about was the fact that shoplifting is stealing. Yes. Stealing. And stealing is a crime. And crimes are punishable by law. Some kicks.

When it really hit home was when you were caught on your way out. Then you got taken to the manager's office. Then you got taken to the police station. Then they called your folks. You started to feel a little bit sick.

Sure, you're under age. But juveniles who steal get police records, too. It's like a tattoo. Never washes or wears off. It sticks to you. Some kicks.

Maybe it didn't happen to you. Or not yet. But think about it. Shoplifting can wreck your life in seconds. In terms of college, of a job, or voting.

It is tempting but a police record is not worth the kicks. Think about it.

Choral Art Society
To Present "Hodie"

The Choral Art Society of New Jersey will present a performance of "Hodie" by the composer Ralph Vaughan Williams on Jan. 18, at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Edith Ricks will conduct. Soloists will be Marcella Daily, Lorna Ansley, Ann Weeks, soprano; William Ball and Mark Riddell, tenors; and Harold M. Miller and Donald Boss, organist. Karen Longstaff, harp, and Irving Nussbaum, viola, will also participate.

The English composer Ralph Vaughan Williams was born 100 years ago, on Oct. 12, 1872. He was the son of John Vaughan Williams, a schoolmaster, and was born in Westfield. He was educated at private schools and at the University of London. He was the first English composer of note to have written a large amount of choral music. His most famous works are the "Sinfonia Antica" and the "Mass in G Minor." Williams was also a strong advocate of English music and was one of the first to publish English music in America.

The performance will be held in the church's main sanctuary. Admission is free, but donations are gratefully accepted.

Federal Revenue Sharing...
Tax Relief or Higher Spending ???

New Jersey’s local governments received more than $227 million in Federal Revenue Sharing in the current fiscal year. The money was received in two installments, the first in March and the second in September. The Federal Revenue Sharing Program was established by the Federal Government in 1972 as a way of providing financial assistance to local governments.

However, the program has been controversial and some have criticized it for providing too little money or not enough flexibility in how the money can be spent. Others have praised the program for providing much-needed funds to local governments.

In New Jersey, the revenue sharing money is divided among the state’s counties, municipalities, and special districts. The money is intended to help fund a variety of programs and services, including education, public safety, and public works.

Some have argued that the revenue sharing money has been poorly spent or that it has not been used to its full potential. Others have praised the program for helping to improve local government services and for providing a means of distributing Federal funds directly to local communities.

Overall, the revenue sharing program has been a controversial one, and it remains to be seen what the long-term effects of the program will be on New Jersey’s local governments.
N.J. Prepares for Transition To New International Signs

Director Ray J. Martis today said the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles and the Department of Transportation are taking steps to ensure a safe and orderly transition to international signs on the State’s roads and highways. In preparing every motorist in New Jersey with these new signs, the Division of Motor Vehicles is mailing out free educational leaflets with driver license renewal applications. Martis also planned:

The four-color flyer briefly explains that the new international symbols signify that the motorist is in a country where the traffic rules and their enforcement have moved toward uniformity with those of the other countries. It illustrates 14 of the new symbols, with the list of languages and guide signs — many of which convey a familiar message, via a new shape or color. The Division of Motor Vehicles, along with the National Association of State Traffic Agencies, was instrumental in bringing about the international signs. The Division of Motor Vehicles was given the task of developing the new signs for the New Jersey Office of Highway Safety.

The Office also provided 1,000 three- or four-foot “Dist-A-Sign” wheels, which are being distributed to municipality officials, drivers education teachers, and elementary school teachers. Martis said:

Prepared by the DOT’s Bureau of Traffic Engineering, the typical signs compare 11 new regulatory and warning signs with their corresponding old signs. It also references each sign’s new dimension and the page number in the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices where further information can be found. Copies of this manual are available at no cost to all officials who wish to replace all signs.

For both traveling safety and convenience, motorists and pedestrians of all ages must understand the new symbols. Therefore, I urge all drivers to familiarize themselves with the available literature.

Total income growth was nearly 52 percent higher. Almost 44 percent and the property tax revenues increased 64.4 percent; sales and use tax income grew 94.7 percent; and 9.2 percent came from property taxes. Other sources include fees, miscellaneous non-revenue, and federal, state, and local grants.

Use of surplus varied from 93 percent of total income in Monmouth County to less than 16 percent in Somerset County. Greatest utilization of surplus has been in the counties surrounding the Statehouse. The counties range from nearly 52 percent in Warren County to over 82 percent in Monmouth. The county levy varied from 58 percent in Morris and Somerset counties to slightly less than 16 percent in Warren County. About 2.3 percent of total revenue was from surplus.

To date, the local property tax accounts for over one-fifth of the near $600 million in local property tax revenues collected through municipal tax bills which amount to about $600 million. About 80.1 percent of all property tax revenues comes from property taxes.
