St. Bartholomew Academy Hires New Vice-Principal

SCOTCH PLAINS - St. Bartholomew Academy has announced the hiring of Janet Ramos as the new vice-principal. Mrs. Ramos has extensive experience as a public school teacher and secondary level special education supervisor in the Scotch Plains-Fanwood School District.

Mrs. Ramos brings to St. Bartholomew Academy the perspective of having served as an administrator and classroom teacher. During her tenure in the Scotch Plains-Fanwood School District, Mrs. Ramos made significant contributions in regard to instructional leadership, school accountability, budgeting and school climate. Mrs. Ramos received her a bachelor's degree in Spanish and special and elementary education from Rutgers University and her graduate degree in educational administration from Columbia University. She also holds certifications as a supervisor, elementary teacher (K-8) and various special education specialties.

Mrs. Ramos stated the following about her new opportunity at St. Bartholomew's. "What excites me the most about getting to work at St. Bartholomew's is the strong sense of community and family involvement. SBA is an academically strong school and draws talented students from the area. I am looking forward to working with the teachers, the students and the parents. This is a great fit for me. It completes a full circle of my commitment to Catholic education personally and professionally. It started with my own schooling at St. Peter's, my own children's attendance at St. Bartholomew's and St. Peter's Prep and now I have the opportunity to give back to the Academy and make a professional contribution. I am eager to get started!"

Principal, Sister Elizabeth Calello stated, "We are blessed to be adding Mrs. Ramos to our administrative team. Her administrative experience in one New Jersey's finest school districts has provided a foundation of experiences that will serve the Academy and our students well." Mrs. Ramos started her term on July 1 as 10-year Vice-Principal, Suzanne Florendo, stepped down from the Academy to become principal at St. James School in Basking Ridge.
