told me that at the end of the first lap to wake up because that is when everyone tends to slow down. I noticed that people were slowing down at the 500 mark, so, I passed Rebecca (Babicz of Union Catholic) and thought that Megs was going to be really tough to catch. She didn't hear anyone behind her. Then around 150 left, I came up on her and gave it all I got."

"I did not hear her coming from behind," said DiDario, who tied her best time. "Most of the race, everyone kept screaming, 'you're in the lead! You got a great lead!' So, when she passed me in the end, I was surprised."

"It's a great way to go out as a senior," said coach Klimas of Kelly. "She has been our go-to person for four years. One of the things we talked about was staying under control in the first 400 and let the other ticed she was just a half a step ahead of McCurdy after the final hurdle. From there, McCurdy turned on the burners.

"She hit the last hurdle and I said to myself, 'I have to go now,'" said McCurdy. "I heard the hurdle knocking and it didn't slow her down. So, I had to push it."

McCurdy did take first in the 400 intermediate hurdles with a time of 1:06.4 and Maya Monroe cleared 5'2" to seize first in the high jump.

Blue Devil Sara Burke ran neck-and-neck with Elizabeth's April Williams in the 100 meters but was nosed out, finishing in :12.9. Burke also glided 15'4" to place fifth in the long jump. Williams soared an amazing 18'0.25" to win the event.

"It's in my regular range," said Burke of her time in the 100. "My best is :12.6. This track seems to be slow for me. Last year I did around :13.2."

girls go. I thought they ran it a little too fast. And Erin responded well and was patient. It was a very strategic race."

Kelly also teamed with Rachael Jones, Jill Koscielcki and Jayme Ferraro to place first in the 4x400 relay with a time of 4:05.5.

Midway through the meet a realistic Highlander Head Coach Bill Gorski assessed his team's chances. "I expected us to win the high jump. I'm looking for a win in the 400 hurdles, be second or third in the 100 hurdles and place in the discus and the shot. So, we could be in the 35 point area hopefully."

Well! Coach Gorski got more than he expected when McCurdy nosed out Linden's Amy Sura for first in the 100 hurdles, finishing in :15.4. Sura had a significant lead early but no-

Raiders' Comeback Startles Cougar Baseball Boys, 6-4

With the game seemingly under Cougar domination, Schiller battered his solo blast to remote left field. Jeff Hensal hissed a single past short and Dave Baumwoll wiggled a squibbler toward the mound. The confused pitcher, Derrek Zulick, threw wild to first and Hensal and Baumwoll scampered to third and second, respectively. Next, Zulick balked and Hensal was allowed to score. Then Brian Maroney narrowed the score to 4-3 with a RBI single to center.

In the sixth, Josh Finkelstein singled over second and Marcus Dockery walked. With no one out, Schiller stepped to the plate and laid down a perfect bunt, advancing both runners. With pinch runner Kyle Adams on third and Dockery on second, Baumwoll ripped a two-run single to right-center off Cougar reliever and ace Tom Polito, giving the Raiders the lead. After Maroney as hit-by-a-pitch, Anthony Blasi added insurance with an RBI single to center.

"We wanted him to execute the bunt, so we could tie the game. And, that's what he did," said Hensal of Schiller's bunt. "Polito is their number one pitcher. They brought him in to close the game and we hit their number one. I was very proud of these kids."

The win improved the Raiders to 9-10 while Cranford lowered to 16-8.
