Program to Address Grief and Holidays

AREA - A lecture entitled "Grief and the Holidays" will be presented by the Center For Hope Hospice and Palliative Care on Monday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Roselle Catholic High School, 1 Raritan Road in Roselle.
 Presented by Donna Dandrilli, a bereavement counselor, the program will advise attendees how to approach the stressful holiday season while coping with grief. It is free and open to the public.
 Individuals in need of counseling, support groups and other support resources are asked to call Ms. Dandrilli at (908) 654-3103 or Maria Gould at (908) 587-2117.

Lt. Santo Salvo Named Officer of the Year

SCOTCH PLAINS - United States Navy Lieutenant Commander John T. Santo Salvo, a 1983 graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, was recently named Military Officer of the Year at Fleet and Industrial Supply Center in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.
 While serving as a fuel director, Lieutenant Santo Salvo developed multiple projects worth more than $32 million. He also managed more than $900 million in facilities, $150 million in inventory and $90 million in maintenance, repair and environmental funds.
 The Military Officer of the Year program was established to recognize individuals who best represent dedicated military officers serving as role models of professionalism and personal excellence.
