MOUNTAINSIDE - The Center For Hope Hospice & Palliative Care Women's Auxiliary will sponsor its fifth annual "Get Away in Style" fashion show and luncheon on Sunday, October 13, beginning at 11 a.m. at L'Affaire on Route 22, East, in Mountainside.

Library Offers Classes On Job Search Tools

WESTFIELD - Two classes will be held at the Westfield Memorial Library this month for people who are seeking employment.

"Job Searching on the Internet" will be offered today, Thursday, October 10, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. It will focus on combining traditional job search methods with the Internet.

Participants will look at government and private employment websites and learn how to post their résumés on the Internet.

"Résumé and Cover Letters for Beginners" will discuss content, writing styles and graphic formats for these job seeking tools. This class will take place on Thursday, October 17, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Individuals must be Westfield Library cardholders to participate in the classes and advance registration is required.

All classes will be held at the library, located at 550 East Broad Street. For more information or to register, please call the Reference Department at (908) 789-4090.

Drug Awareness Week To Begin With Walk

WESTFIELD - Westfield Municipal Alliance/PANDA will sponsor Drug Awareness Week from October 23 to 31.

The kickoff will take place at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, October 19, with a two-mile walk on North Avenue, starting at the Knights of Columbus Hall at Crossway Place, through Westfield to the Garwood border. The rain date is Sunday, October 20.

After the walk, participants are invited to Nomahegan Park in Cranford for a free day of family activities. For more information, please call (908) 233-4862 or email Lectures4u@aol.com.

Support Groups Listed For Sept. 11 Families

SCOTCH PLAINS - The Center for Women and Families, located at 1801 East Second Street in Scotch Plains, is offering free support groups for families affected by the events of September 11, 2001.

Entitled "Moving Forward Through Grief," the groups are held on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Princetta Edwards, a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, serves as the facilitator.

Designed for spouses and children of victims of the terrorist attacks, the groups focus on traumatic life changes within a supportive environment. Children's groups are developmentally appropriate.

Interested individuals are asked to call (908) 322-6007 for reservations or further information.

Willow Grove to Host Kids' Autumn Festival

SCOTCH PLAINS - The Willow Grove Presbyterian Church in Scotch Plains will hold its first annual Children's Autumn Fun Festival on Saturday, October 19, from 1 to 4 p.m. The rain date is Saturday, October 26.

Among the activities will be arts and crafts for children; mini-pumpkin painting; face painting; balloon animals; candy-filled cones and goodie bags. There will also be a bake sale, plus cider and coffee.

The event will take place in the church parking lot, located at 1961 Raritan Road. A $3 per child donation is requested to cover the cost of materials. To make reservations, please call the church office at (908) 232-5678.

Coordinated this year by Maureen Pearce, the event, which benefits the hospice center, will feature fashion selections from shops in the Short Hills Mall, Summit and Millburn.

Once again, a Grand Raffle will be held during the fashion show. The first prize is an eight-day trip to Ireland for two, including airfare; five nights at the Castleroy Park Hotel in Limerick; two nights at Ashford Castle in Cong, County Mayo and a rental car.

The second prize is a 14-carat, gold and sapphire cocktail ring, while the third prize is a New York City theater weekend for two, one night at the Marriott Marquis Hotel, theater tickets of choice, dinner at "Craftbar" and roundtrip limousine service. As usual, a "parade of prizes" auction will also be held.

Tickets are $45 per person and reservations are required. To purchase raffle tickets and for further information, please call Elaine Brown at (908) 486-0700.

SP-F Music Boosters Sponsor Competition For Marching Band

SCOTCH PLAINS - The Scotch Plains-Fanwood Music Boosters Association has announced the Fourth Annual Scotch Plains-Fanwood Marching Band Competition on Sunday, October 13, at the Perry Tyson Athletic Field in Scotch Plains.

The marching bands scheduled to compete are River Dell Regional, Dunellen, Secaucus, Manalapan, Carteret, Westfield, Bridgewater-Raritan, Morris Knolls, J.P. Stevens and the Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School Raider Marching band.

Bands will be judged in several categories, including best music, best front squad, best percussion, best drum majors and best overall performance. Trophies are usually presented for first, second and third place in each category.

Tickets will be available at the high school football field on the day of the festival. Admission is $6 for adults and $4 for students and senior citizens. Children under 10 will be admitted free. Gates open at 12:30 p.m. The first band is scheduled to perform at 1 p.m. Refreshments will be available.

Perry Field Tyson is located behind Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School on Westfield Road in Scotch Plains.

Rabbi Kroloff to Present Educational Lecture Series

WESTFIELD - Rabbi Charles A. Kroloff will offer a three-part educational series at the First Congregational Church, 125 Elmer Street in Westfield, beginning Tuesday, October 22. The public is invited to attend.

Rabbi Kroloff will explore the question, "What does God require of us?" Included in the series will be an examination of the theological roots of social justice, as well as the practical steps in achieving justice for those who suffer. Drawing from his analysis of the tragedy of homelessness, Rabbi Kroloff said, "Our faith traditions teach us that we have a responsibility for those who suffer; together we can make a difference."

The Rabbi Kroloff lecture/discussion schedule at First Congregational Church is as follows:

Tuesday, October 22, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., "Social Justice: Our Interfaith Partnership."

Monday, October 28, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., "Elijah Knocks: A Religious Response to Homelessness."

Monday, November 4, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., "Westfield and Affordable Housing: Who are we and what do we want to become?"

Rabbi Kroloff is Rabbi Emeritus of Temple Emanu-El of Westfield and past President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. He serves as past President, Coalition of Religious Leaders of New Jersey, and Commissioner, State of New Jersey Bioethics Commission.

A founder and the first Vice-President of the Interfaith Council for the Homeless of Union County. Rabbi Kroloff is the author of "When Elijah Knocks: A Religious Response to Homelessness and 54 Ways You Can Help the Homeless."

The Rabbi Kroloff lecture series is sponsored by the First Congregational Church Board of Christian Education. For more information, please call (908) 233-2494.

Reader Says Politics Trumps The Law!

In the Sunday Star Ledger (perspective section) - Torricelli is pictured with a quote "I feel liberated."

He was liberated by his cronies on the Senate Ethics Committee from charges that should have put him in jail! After all his "bag man" is there, as well as others for the same crimes.

He was liberated once again by Gov. McGreevey. So it is no wonder that Torricelli says he feels "liberated." It is better than being behind bars.

When Torricelli realized that he was losing the battle for his Senate seat, he chose to make the statement, "He did not want to be responsible for control of the Senate going to the Republicans."

McGreevey, who also does not believe that the law applies to him, has changed it to suit his fancy since elected - from his appointment of the head of the State Police to the head of the office of State Security. Do you feel a little safer?

Since the U.S. Supreme Court will not step in to correct this injustice, let us liberate ourselves on Election Day and vote for Doug Forrester!
