Woman's Club Announces Gray Scholarship Winners

WESTFIELD — The Woman's Club Of Westfield has announced the eight winners of the club's Gray Scholarship Awards.

Marie Gray, President of the Gray Family Foundation, has announced that the following students, all Westfield High School graduates, will each receive $1,000 one-time grants:

Alexandria Brummel, the daughter of Mrs. Jennifer Khan-Nowak, a freshman at Rutgers University where her major is undecided. Alexandria has been interested in computer science and the sciences. She was a member of the Rotary Club, participated in softball, cheerleading and stage design while at WHS.

Christopher Hild, the son Robert and Karen Hild is a freshman at George Mason University where he will major in criminal justice while looking forward to a career with the FBI. Christopher appeared in WHS dramatic and musical productions and was a big contributor to WHS baseball and basketball. Among his honors are: National Honor Society, Who's Who Among America's High School Students and Who's Who Among America's High Students-Sports.

Emily Ortuso, the daughter of Peter and Darcy Ortuso, is a freshman at Boston University where she will major in English and minor in Education with plans to become a high school English teacher. Emily has worked WHS theater productions, been a member of WHS field hockey and spring track-discus squads, the National Honor Society and helped feed the hungry through Bridges.

Nicole Zubizarreta, the daughter of Mrs. Lucia Zubizarreta, is a freshman at Franklin and Marshall College. Nicole will major in biology or psychology with plans to attend medical school. She worked on the WHS yearbook and was a member of the school's field hockey team. Nicole was awarded an Edward J. Bloustein Scholarship, was recognized magna cum laude by the National Latin Exam, was a member of the National Honor Society and chosen as Student of the Month.

The following former scholarship recipients will also receive $1,000 one-time grants:

Megan Hein, the daughter of Albert and Gail Hein, is a senior at University of Mary Washington where she has excelled all four years as an liberal arts major. She will continue her studies next year on the graduate level in a field yet to be chosen.

Rui Lu, the daughter of Shuming Lu and Xin Wang, is a senior at Johns Hopkins University where she will graduate a semester early. Rui hopes to enter an accelerated master's program in economics at Hopkins.

Bree Sherry, the daughter of Thomas and Delores Sherry, is a senior at Elon University. She spent time this winter studying in Europe and is working as production stage manager this summer. Bree is able to maintain Dean's List status while working part-time jobs.

Michael Sherry, the son of Thomas and Delores Sherry, is a second-year student at The Musical and Dramatic Academy. Michael maintained a cumulative Grade Point Average of 3.9. The Woman's Club of Westfield will host its annual scholarship luncheon at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 19 at Baltusrol Golf Club. The WHS Choraleers will entertain at this major fundraiser of the year.

Anyone interested in attending or for more information, should call (908) 233-4815.

Gov. Livingston Merit Semifinalists Named

BERKELEY HEIGHTS — The National Merit Scholarship Program named three Governor Livingston High School seniors as semifinalists in the competition for Merit Scholarship awards to be offered in 2006. Andrew Mathis, Deirdre Shannon and Rosalie Yan are among some 16,000 high school students with the highest PSAT/NMSQT Selection Index scores as determined by The National Merit Scholarship Program.

Each year, 8,200 Merit Scholarship awards are bestowed on the group of more than 15,000 finalists. In order to advance to finalist, each semifinalist must meet high academic standards as well as other requirements set forth by the program.

In addition, fifteen Governor Livingston High School students were named Commended Students by the National Merit Scholarship Program: Craig Bostwick, Eugene Byuen, Jesse Chenitz, Nicholas Chomut, Alexandre Kontur, Brian Lam, Jennifer Masters, Robert Mathis, Nadeem Modan, Tess Perrin, Cristina Politano, Pavel Shapiro, Barbara Stekas, Henry Wu and Katherine Zaeh.

FSO to Welcome Speaker On Special Education Rights

WESTFIELD — On Tuesday, October 11, the Family Support Organization (FSO) of Union County will present Stephanie Glaser in a program entitled "Special Education - The Basics from a Pro" from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The event will be held at the FSO's office at 137 Elmer Street.

A severe dyslexic, Ms. Glaser holds a Master of Social Work degree and is director of her own business, SAG Education Advocate.

As the parent of a learning disabled child herself, she possesses the multifaceted perspective of one who has viewed both learning disabilities and school systems as a child, adult, mother and professional trainer and advocate. Ms. Glaser will explain the legal rights of the child and parent in special education and how to obtain them successfully.

The FSO is contracted by the New Jersey Department of Human Services to offer support, education and advocacy for parents and caregivers of children with special mental health needs.

To reserve a space, be placed on the mailing list for future events, or for more information, please call Kathy or Gail at (908) 789-7625 during business hours. The event is offered free of charge.

Zaleski Contributes 10,000 Service Hours

FANWOOD — Katie Zaleski, a resident of Fanwood and a freshman at American University, participated in a community service project in which freshman students contributed more than 10,000 hours of service at 46 sites around the Washington, D.C. area. Katie is a recent graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School.

AU's Freshman Service Experience (FSE) brings new students together to build and encourage a strong foundation of volunteerism, immersing students into American University and Washington, D.C. and helping students make friends before classes begin. FSE is in its 15th year, having started in 1991 with only 30 students.

More than 500 AU students participated in FSE. Students served and prepared meals, rebuilt homes, cleaned local and national parks and worked with children and the disabled.

FW Resident Displays Art in Times Square

FANWOOD — Barbara Harris, a Fanwood resident and art teacher in the South Plainfield school system, is currently exhibiting her work in New York City at the Times Square Lobby Gallery located in the former Times Square Hotel at 255 West 43rd Street at 8th Avenue.

The exhibit is open to the public Wednesday through Saturday between 4 and 7 p.m. through Wednesday, November 30. The show is entitled "Artists Pic: Curator Artists Curate Artists Curating." Ms. Harris exhibits her work under the name of Barbara Melino.

Included in the exhibition are 10 one-of-a-kind clay pieces (bowls, vases, covered containers and cups) in a showcase in the first floor lobby and a wall relief on the gallery level. The artist has shown her work in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York City.

WESTFIELD, NJ, SEPTEMBER 29, 2005 — Coldwell Banker's Westfield Office is proud to announce a very special Meet the Builder Day at select new homes throughout Westfield and Scotch Plains on Sunday, October 16, 2005 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Prospective home purchasers will have the opportunity to tour six new homes and meet the builders and team of experts behind these extraordinary properties currently available in one of the state's most sought after neighborhoods. Each home is designed to complement its location and all feature some of the finest details and finishes. Prices range from $1,199,000 to $2,500,000. Michael Scott, manager of the Coldwell Banker Westfield Office, is excited about this special event. Scott states, "We know that buying a new home will probably be your largest investment. That is why we understand that choosing a builder is the most important decision you will make. His or her skill and preferences for design and materials used will have a direct impact on your future comfort, security and the home's value. It is important to thoroughly research what is available and determine a builder who you can trust and work with to build your dream home."

Scott continues, "Our Meet the Builder Day gives you that opportunity in one day to visit some of the most exquisite homes underway or in the planning stages here in Westfield. You will be able to tour the homes, speak to the builders directly and see first hand how these homes are being created to reflect the traditional ambiance of this wonderful town. This is a one-of-a-kind day to help you find the right builder and new home for you and your family to enjoy for many years to come."

For additional information on the new homes that will be part of the Meet the Builder Day in Westfield, please contact the Coldwell Banker Westfield Office at (908) 233-5555. Or visit the Coldwell Banker Westfield Office for a complete listing and directions. To visit the Coldwell Banker Westfield Office located at the corner of Central and North Avenues.
