Arboretum Invites Families To 'Moonlight Madness'

SUMMIT – The Reeves-Reed Arboretum, located at 165 Hobart Avenue in Summit, has invited families to participate in its annual "Moonlight Madness" celebration that will take place on Friday, July 21.

Participants will have an opportunity to learn more about the lives of nocturnal animals, plants and insects. Using a tour map, they will explore various interactive stations strategically placed within the Reeves-Reed Arboretum's 12.5 acres.

Each station will encourage participants to investigate the sights and sounds of nature at night. The stations will include craft and sensory exploration activities plus guest presentations by professional educators.

Among the featured educational activities will be live screech owls provided by the Weis Ecology Center and a live display and discussion of nocturnal reptiles and mammals from Snakes-N-Scales and Turtle Tales.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center will have a bat display and Vinnie Reo of Wolf Visions will bring his wolfdogs to teach visitors about the important role of wolves in the wild.

Additionally, participants will be able to experience the night sky inside an inflated planetarium. The evening's program will conclude with a storytelling presentation on the front lawn of the arboretum.

Stations will open at 7:30 p.m., at sunset, and will conclude at 9:30 p.m. All participants are invited to bring a picnic dinner at 6:30 p.m. and dine while waiting for the festivities to begin.

Pre-registration is required. The cost per family is $20 for arboretum members and $25 for non-members. Attendees are advised to bring along flashlights. The event will take place rain or shine.

For more information on "Moonlight Madness" or any of the other programs offered at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum, interested individuals are asked to call the arboretum at (908) 273-8787 or visit its website at www.reeves-reedarboretum.org.

The "Moonlight Madness" event will be sponsored in part by the Summit Area Development Corporation.

Preschool to Offer Activities Enhancing Judaic Learning

SCOTCH PLAINS – The Jewish Community Center (JCC) of Central New Jersey Preschool has announced new curriculum enhancements for the 2006-2007 school year.

Incorporating feedback from parents and the Early Childhood Services committees, the JCC has added an extensive list of regular activities to bring a new dimension of Judaic learning to its students.

Among the new offerings will be once-a-week lessons with a Hebrew specialist for every class at every age group. The specialist will teach students Hebrew through developmentally appropriate songs, dances, games and crafts.

Other enhancements will include expanded school-wide celebrations of Shabbat and Jewish holidays and family tzedakah opportunities, plus additional programs.

A limited number of spaces in the JCC Preschool are still available for the 2006-2007 school year. The JCC is located at 1391 Martine Avenue in Scotch Plains.

For more information on the enhanced Judaic curriculum or the JCC Preschool in general, please contact Early Childhood Services Director Nancy Kovacs at nkovacs@jcncj.org or (908) 889-8800, extension no. 204. The JCC of Central New Jersey is a constituent agency of the United Way and the Jewish Federation of Central New Jersey.
