

WHS Students Plans Juvenile Diabetes Walk

WESTFIELD - For her senior project, Westfield High School student Jacqui Snyder is organizing a walk to raise funds for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF).

Jacqui has a cousin with juvenile diabetes and has seen the whole family suffer as a result of it. Her cousin is one in more than 13,000 children diagnosed with juvenile diabetes in the United States every year.

The walk will take place at Echo Lake Park in Mountainside on Sunday, June 10. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., and the walk will start at 10. The course is approximately 20 minutes long, but participants may walk for less or more time if they desire.

Participants of all ages are welcome. There is a $5 minimum registration fee, but larger donations are encouraged. T-shirts will be sold and free water is available. One hundred percent of the proceeds will be donated to the JDRF.

Echo Lake Park is located between Mountain and Springfield Avenues. Registration will be located at the entrance to the park near Springfield Avenue.

For pre-registration or questions, call Jacqui at (908) 233-6189 or e-mail GLAMGR1689@comcast.net.

FASHIONABLE...Westfield's Meisha Hill graduated from the Fashion Institute of Technology with an associate's degree in Advertising and Marketing Communications at the college's May 22 commencement exercises. She was honored with a Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence from the State University of New York (SUNY) in Albany, N.Y. The award recognizes the most talented and gifted students attending SUNY institutions. Above, from left, are Michael Weingarten, FIT's acting dean for Student Services, Meisha and SUNY Chancellor John Ryan.

WF FIT Student Wins SUNY Chancellor's Award

WESTFIELD - Graduation from the Fashion Institute of Technology (FIT) represented two achievements for Meisha Hill of Westfield.

She obtained an associate's degree in Advertising and Marketing Communications at the college's May 22 commencement exercises, and she was honored with a Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence from the State University of New York (SUNY) in Albany, N.Y.

The award recognizes the most talented and gifted students attending SUNY institutions. "Recipients of this year's awards have excelled academically and, in many cases, far exceeded even their own expectations in their pursuit of higher education and community involvement," said John Ryan, SUNY chancellor.

The Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence was created to recognize students who have best demonstrated and been recognized for the integration of academic excellence with accomplishments in the areas of leadership, athletics, community service, creative and performing arts or career achievement.

The recipients have an average grade point average of 3.78 or higher and records of significant contributions to their campus or local community.

Born in Australia and raised in Westfield, where her parents, Joanne and Denis Hill, still reside, Meisha graduated from Westfield High School.

A student ambassador and Presidential Scholars honor student, she was on the college's dean's list every semester. She has been an intern at Meier Brand marketing agency. In the fall, she will work toward her bachelor's degree in Advertising and Marketing Communications at FIT.

Art Club Raises Money For Cystic Fibrosis

WESTFIELD - The Edison Intermediate Art Club, under the tutelage of teacher Helen Mastrangelo, raised $1,125 for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation with its first annual "Fun Run" mini 5K.

Students designed T-shirts, had bake sales and hosted a mini-5k run competition around the school grounds on May 15 after school. There were prizes for the first three runners in both the male and female categories.

Brummer's Chocolates, Jersey Mike's, Così and Rock'n Joe, for example, donated prizes for the kids. Buona Pizza provided pizza for the after-party at a fraction of the regular cost. Fifty kids entered the run and raised $1,125 to be given directly to research and help those who suffer from Cystic Fibrosis.

ENRICHMENT CENTER'S SUMMER REGISTRATION UNDERWAY AT A FAST PACE

The Enrichment Center, a full service tutoring and enrichment service, is located at 625 Central Avenue, Westfield. This modern air conditioned site has ample free on site parking. The Enrichment Center employs over 150 State certified experienced teachers who are waiting to help your child. Mrs. Elaine Sigal invites parents and students to stop by The Enrichment Center to see for themselves what makes this such a special place to learn. The month of June is one long "Open House."

"Registration is underway for the summer session," says Elaine Sigal, owner and director of The Enrichment Center. "We offer classes for Pre-K through high school seniors, as well as private sessions. This year's summer program has many new offerings. The basic and advanced reading, math and writing classes are still being offered in the morning, early evening and Saturday. The enrichment additions to the schedule are on Monday and Friday as well as the afternoons. Games of Strategy, Communication Concepts, Motion/Magnets/Machines, Knights and Castles, Pirates and Treasures, Space, Archaeology, Theater, Stock Market, Law, Study Skills, How Things Work, and Chess are all offerings for students in K-8th grade.

The summer "CAMPS" are offered in the afternoon from 1-4 PM for one week sessions. Forensic Science, Creative Writing and Poetry, Digital Photography, Creative Puppetry, Building and Construction, Computers and Chess are being offered. "We solicited summer requests from parents, and these programs are responding to their suggestions," says Sigal.

"Not only is our PreK-8 program successful, so is our SAT program," says Sigal. "We offer a program where students can start as early as middle school and as late as senior year. We also have a staff of college advisors who help students with the entire college application process, as well as helping parents know where to begin. "Parents know that we don't just teach their children and send them on their way, but we nurture them and help them throughout the entire college application process," says Sigal. The success rate at The Enrichment Center is excellent. The maximum class size of 10 allows for teachers to individualize and obtain maximum results.

Some students attend The Enrichment Center over the summer to get ahead in school; parents rent the text book their child will be using from their school district, and The Enrichment Center's teachers work with the student to "get ahead" for the next school year. This summer, the Enrichment Center Annex, a non profit company, is sponsoring summer school at Rahway High School during the morning and at night at The Enrichment Center. The concept of doing summer school credit at The Enrichment Center is becoming very popular. The flexibility offers students the ability to take course credit while fitting it into their schedules. Both remediation and new course work is offered.

Call today so you are not disappointed and can register for the classes that you want and that meet your scheduling needs: 908-654-0110 to enroll or to talk with Mrs. Sigal. The website www.TheEnrichmentCenter.com has a wealth of information for parents. You may also go to www.TheEnrichmentCenterAnnex.org for the summer school information.

SP's Kaskiw Co-Leads Candy Competition

SCOTCH PLAINS - With the help of a grant from Just Born, Inc., the Cedar Crest College Business Department's marketing program challenges area high-school students to create cutting-edge electronic marketing concepts aimed at their peers for the Bethlehem-based candy company's Mike and Ike and Peanut Chews brands in the first-ever "iCandy: Choose UR Chew" contest.

Kara Kaskiw, daughter of Michael and Halina Kaskiw, of Scotch-Plains, is one half of a student duo leading the competition. Kara, a 2004 graduate of Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, is conducting the competition as part of her marketing degree program at the Allentown, Pa., college.

The high-school teams will work directly with Kara, Kristian Parchinski and Arlene Peltola, an assistant professor.
