Stender Calls Attention To Hunger Awareness Day

SCOTCH PLAINS - Assemblywoman Linda Stender (LD-22, Fanwood) joined hunger relief organizations nationwide in calling attention to National Hunger Awareness Day on June 5.

In its sixth year, the event is organized by America's Second Harvest. "We have to challenge our preconceived notions of who is going without food," said Mrs. Stender (D-Union). "The image of unemployed adults waiting in long lines at soup kitchens goes back to the Great Depression. It does not reflect today's reality."

"The federal poverty limit is set at $19,971 for a family of four," Mrs. Stender said. "Due to the high cost of living in New Jersey, almost double that is needed to maintain a family in good health."

DEP Seeks Input On Park Improvements

TRENTON - Visitors to New Jersey's parks, forests and historic sites can help to shape the future of recreational areas by participating in a new survey now available online and at area offices, Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner Lisa Jackson announced last week.

"New Jersey's recreational areas contribute immeasurably to our quality of life," Ms. Jackson said. "We want to know what matters most to our visitors as we begin making improvements to existing facilities and developing new amenities."

The DEP will conduct the visitor surveys throughout the summer to better understand the public's top priorities for park improvements, including campsites, trails, swimming areas, historic restoration and boating and fishing access.

New Jersey voters last November approved a constitutional amendment that provides funding - $15 million a year until 2015 and $32 million annually beginning in 2016 - for maintenance and capital improvements at state parks, historic sites and wildlife areas.

The surveys are available at any park, forest or historic site office, or online at njparksandforests.org.
