JLFP Invites Kids to Enter Story-Writing Contest

AREA - The Junior League of Elizabethtown (JLEP) is sponsoring a writing contest, open to children in grades one through six, to encourage children to write stories that can be enjoyed by children of all ages, with the purpose of promoting a love of literature and encouraging reading for pleasure.

Stories must be no more than 1,000 words. The contest is open to children in grades one through six, and must be the child's original work. Entries may be submitted by hand or by email. Entries must be received by November 22, 2012.

Stories must be submitted at the Junior League office. For more information, contact Margot Weintraub at 908-236-8781 or mweintraub@jlep.org. Visit www.jlep.org for contest guidelines.

The rules for the writing contest are as follows:

- Stories must be completely original
- Stories must be written in English
- Stories must be typed or written legibly
- Stories must be submitted in a standard Word processor
- Stories must be no more than 1,000 words
- Stories must be the product of one writer only
- Stories must be the author's original work

The winner will receive a $100 gift certificate to Starr's Books and a copy of the contest-winning story in hardback form. The winner will also be invited to attend the Junior League of Elizabethtown's annual meeting and reception. The winner will be announced at the annual meeting.

The Junior League of Elizabethtown, Inc. is the Elizabethtown chapter of the Junior League of Metropolitan New Jersey, a community service organization that promotes the vitality of women in the community through leadership of trained volunteers. The contest is the third in a series of writing contests that will be held in the area.
