

but missed the mark. "Governor Livingston does a great job of frustrating us by forcing us to play outside. Our game plan was to be aggressive against it and look to get some points in transition, but they did a great job of taking that away.

We extended our lead to seven and we had a few possessions in a row that we let their best player get some open looks and get them back in the game. I give them credit for continuing to battle. We started playing with more urgency towards the end but it was too little too late," Coach Palmieri said.
