5:28 on the clock. Less than two minutes later, the Mustangs seized a 47-46 lead. A little later, Oblachinski fed Trotter, who nailed a 3-pointer to put the Cougars in front, 51-49, with 59 seconds remaining. Matt Ringel drew a foul and sank both free throws to send the game into overtime. During that quarter, the Cougars missed a pair of free throws that could have ended the game.

and a lay-up to grab an 83-79 lead with 38 seconds remaining. Calamity struck within seven seconds when the Mustangs hit two free throws then immediately converted a steal to a lay-up to knot the score.

Trotter was fouled again and sank one of his two free throws, but the Mustangs sank a free throw then drew another foul with 6.3 seconds remaining sending Markowitz to the line. He sank his first but missed his second. Trotter took care of business from there.

"I didn't want to go through another overtime and I did not want to lose. I had to finish it. I'm exhausted," Trotter said.

Cranford	13	8	17	13	51
OVERTIME:
Marlboro	8	9	4	13	85
Cranford	8	9	4	14	86

Trotter's second 3-pointer at the end of the first overtime yielded an 8-8 score, but the Cougars, once again, struggled at the free throw line. The second overtime appeared to be the final one as the Cougars took a 68-65 lead, but Markowitz sank a 3-pointer with 9.4 on the clock.

"There was a point, I think in the second overtime, that I thought we were going to win, but things happened and they came back," Trotter said.

The third quarter was mostly spent at the charity line, and the Cougars failed to capitalize as each team netted only four points.

"Yes! We weren't hitting our free throws. We must have been five for 20. That's one thing we are going to work on in all our practices," Trotter said.

The seesaw was banging at each end throughout the fourth overtime, but the Cougars hit four free throws

Blue Devil Cagers Nip Par. Christian, 52-50

After a slow first quarter, the Westfield High School boys basketball team awakened to defeat Parsippany Christian, 52-50, in the Len Sepanak Tournament in Basking Ridge on December 27. Dylan Elliott led the 3-1 Blue Devils with 14 points, and Parker Hess netted 12, while Ben Schuman sank 10 points.

Raider Cagers Defeat Franklin Boys, 66-53

The Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School boys basketball team improved to 3-1 with a 66-53 win over Franklin in the opening round of the Keith Benovegno Memorial Tournament in Scotch Plains on December 27. Senior Jack Pollion bucketed 30 points. Leo Ramos sank 14 points.

Cougar Cagers Peel West Orange, 47-43

The Cranford High School boys basketball team rolled with a 16-7 fourth quarter to peel West Orange, 47-43, in the championship game of the Cougar Classic in Cranford on December 28. Junior Luke Christiano banged a 3-pointer with less than a minute left then added a pair of free throws to seal the deal.

Christiano finished with 13 points. John Oblachinski, Tommy Trotter and Mike Guarriello each put in eight points. Jack McCaffrey had four points.
