Allstate Agent Ron Binsky, Brian McBride Help Youth

WESTFIELD – Allstate New Jersey Insurance Company Exclusive Agent Ron Binsky of Westfield recently presented more than 15 youth soccer players and the coach from FC Maximus with soccer uniforms, backpacks, shin guards and tickets to the June 1 match between the U.S. Men's National Team (USMNT) and Turkey at Red Bull Arena in Harrison.

Mr. Binsky provided the players with the soccer gear during a recent surprise clinic featuring Brian McBride, a former USMNT and Major League Soccer (MLS) legend. The program was part of the Allstate Good Hands FC, a series of events focused on providing local in-need youth soccer teams with the means to participate competitively.

The FC Maximus U-16 boys soccer team competes in the competitive MAPS league in New Jersey. The organization's goal is to develop their players to the point where they can earn scholarships to competitive colleges. Though most of the team comes from low-income families, the players are well-known for being proactive in giving back to their community.

Mr. Binsky, who has been an Allstate New Jersey exclusive agent in Westfield for 14 years, believes that it is important to support his community. "It was a privilege to take part in this program, and to help provide those young players with needed soccer equipment. The looks on their faces said it all! Community involvement makes you feel good and is a great way to show people that you care about your neighborhood and are committed to it," said Mr. Binsky.

Westfield Sophomore Co-Moderates at UN Summit

WESTFIELD — Westfield High School sophomore Isabella Gelfand prepared and actively participated for the third consecutive year at the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women (CSW). She was selected as one of 10 delegates to the UN CSW on behalf of the Working Group on Girls, a coalition of 80 international organizations which advocates for the rights of girls worldwide.

Previously, Isabella was one of 20 delegates selected nationwide on behalf of Girls Learn International, a non-profit organization that supports universal education for girls which has its roots in the Westfield Public Schools.

The major theme of this spring's CSW was: Challenges and achievements in the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals for women and girls. Isabella had the exceptional experience of sometimes leading, as well as participating in, various meetings and roundtable discussions. She co-moderated a panel discussion on girls' rights and made presentations to various Missions to the United Nations on the issue of Child Marriage.

"I feel that there are so many girl issues that go unnoticed," stated Isabella, "and establishing a more equal playing field can improve these issues in the world," she said. "It's been proven that there is a positive ripple effect in the economy when women and girls are empowered."

Additionally, Isabella acted as a panelist along with Eleanor Smeal, President of the Feminist Majority Foundation during the celebration in Manhattan of the 10th anniversary

sary of Girls Learn International (GLI). Westfield High School Chapter Leader, Melanie Nettler and Roosevelt Intermediate School Chapter Leader, Deanna Hanchuk, along with chapter members from throughout the country spoke about achievements of their GLI Chapters over the past 10 years. First Lady of New York City, Chirlane McCray, spoke about the importance of youth activism. Honored guests included Lisa Alter, a former Westfield Board of Education member, and her two daughters, Jordana and Arielle, GLI co-founders.

As a result of Isabella's leadership role and activism in GLI, she was named the recipient of this year's Marc Wesley Hardy Human Rights Award, named for a former WHS student who was active in human rights and who lost his life in a car accident in 1990. The award is given annually by his family to a young person for outstanding commitment to human rights. Isabella currently serves as the vice president/treasurer of the WHS chapter and a member of the New York/New Jersey Regional GLI Junior Board.

Union Catholic High School Graduates 208 Seniors

SCOTCH PLAINS — On May 28, Union Catholic (UC) graduated 208 seniors. The Class of 2014 received a total of $24,699,257 in college scholarships and awards. Dennis Reilly of Colonia was named Valedictorian and Thomas Hartnett of Clark was named Salutatorian.

The guest speaker, UC School Consultative Board member and alum Megan Dyckman '07, insisted that she was confident Union Catholic had prepared the graduates for what is to come in their futures. She encouraged students to "Find out what you're passionate about and strive to make that a big part of your life, whether you can do it every day in your career or as a hobby. Don't have any regrets."

Union Catholic seniors also attended the Baccalaureate Liturgy on May 27 at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in Scotch Plains, where Reverend Joseph Mancini celebrated and Reverend Michael Ward '82 (IHM pastor) concelebrated mass.
