Helga Thomas Has Key Role At Center for Hope

SCOTCH PLAINS - After 36 years as a high-school educator and administrator in Scotch Plains, Helga Thomas started planning for her retirement in 2002. As she researched potential post-retirement volunteer opportunities, she found the perfect fit at the Center for Hope Hospice and Palliative Care.

Helga Thomas

She began volunteering as a grief counselor in the Center's Scotch Plains residence, but soon heard that the Center's Auxiliary needed help with the upcoming opening of The Hope Chest, the thrift shop in Westfield that supports the Center's charitable care program. She offered her assistance and has been managing the shop for the past 16 years.

we are so grateful to them for supporting the Center's Auxiliary."

The mission of the Auxiliary is to increase public awareness of the Center for Hope's services and to raise funds that enable the non-profit organization to care for everyone in need, regardless of ability to pay. Last year, the Center provided nearly $3.5 million in free or reduced hospice care at its residence in Elizabethtown.

In addition to proceeds from sales at The Hope Chest, the Auxiliary raises money at two major annual fundraisers: the Fashion Show Luncheon and the Tricky Tray in the Fall and the Wine Tasting and Silent Auction, which will be held on Sunday, June 23, this year. It is hosted by 16 Prospect Wine Bar & Bistro in Westfield. Tickets and information about the event can be found at cfhh.org/2019-wine-tasting.html.

"We have great volunteers at The Hope Chest who give so much to help it thrive. One person has brought new life to our window displays, which our customers have noticed and admired; others are busy handling the donations while others work with our customers," said Ms. Thomas. "We have a very large customer base and "I have a real passion for fundraising, and between my work life and volunteer life, I must have run a thousand fundraisers over the years," she said.

In recent years, she has been working with the Wine Tasting Committee to retool the event, which came back in 2015 after a hiatus following the economic downturn. Last year, the committee added a live auction to supplement the silent auction, with exciting destination packages, tickets to popular attractions and events, and other high-end gifts donated by area residents and businesses.

When asked why she chose to pour her copious energy into fundraising for the Center for Hope, Ms. Thomas said that, "The Center does its best when it translates the happiness and positivity that are possible for people at the end of life. The residences, staff and volunteers offer the most wonderful accommodations and support for patients and families in a loving environment that's so rare to find. I've heard that from many people who received the Center's services and who now support us in some capacity. The Center for Hope is a great example of what the right environment can do for patients and their loved ones, even at a difficult time."

Bill to Expand the Medical Marijuana Clears New Jersey Senate

TRENTON - The state's medical marijuana program would be expanded under the terms of legislation that cleared the Senate on May 30 by a 33-4 vote. The legislation is sponsored by Senators Joseph Vitale (D-19th, Woodbridge) and Nicholas Scutari (D-22nd, Linden).

portant products more affordable," Senator Vitale said.

"This will entirely overhaul the way New Jersey manages medical marijuana. Marijuana has proven to be a safe and effective treatment of a large variety of ailments, from chronic pain to migraines. This bill will help those in need by removing barriers to access for patients, it gives doctors and other caregivers the ability to make use of the medicinal qualities of cannabis and will make these im-

The bill, A-10/S-10, would allow medical use for a more extensive list of diagnosed conditions, increase the number of dispensaries, expand the list of professionals who can authorize patients for the medical use of cannabis, increase access to caregivers, increase the amount of medical cannabis that patients could obtain and end the state tax on cannabis used for medicinal purposes on January 1, 2025.

"The restrictiveness of New Jersey's medical marijuana program is why I produced the initial legislation for reforms in the Senate," Sen. Scutari said.
