Local Residents are Invited To Access Internet at WHS

WESTFIELD - Beginning on Monday, September 21st, the Westfield High School Library will host an Internet User Lab, with access to the Internet from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. to give students an opportunity to use the Internet for research.

Adults and high school students are invited to take advantage of this service. Students below ninth grade in school or at home are not eligible to use the lab, but must be accompanied by an adult. There are currently 10 computers with Internet access available.

WHS librarians Katherine McGovern and Warren Guard will assist the public during this initial phase by giving five-minute tours on a rotating basis. The librarians will also answer questions from the Technology Library's Teen Advisory Council, staffed by students.

Other projects promoting school-wide access to the Internet, such as school-wide email and the school newspaper's online presence, are also being explored.

Letters to the Editor

Resident Desires to Unite Separate School Districts

Barbara Riepe, a resident of Scotch Plains, is concerned about the lack of communication between the two separate school districts in Scotch Plains.

She believes that a united school district would provide better educational opportunities for students and would help to reduce the cost of education for parents.

Riepe encourages others to voice their thoughts on the issue and to support the idea of a united school district.

Frightened Resistant Expresses Dislike For Police Officer’s ‘Tough’ Answer

A resident expressed their dislike for a police officer’s “tough” answer to a question.

The officer’s answer was not well-received by the resident, who expressed their frustration and dissatisfaction with the response.

The resident suggests that the police officer should provide more detailed and clear answers to questions.

Mayor Connolly Appalled By End of FAA Jet Noise Test

Mayor William C. Connolly was appalled by the end of the FAA jet noise test.

He stated that the noise test was a mistake and that the city should have done more to address the issue.

Connolly called for a new noise test to be conducted and for the city to work with the FAA to find a solution to the noise problem.

Unfortunately, two different unions should not ignore the needs of the students, teachers, and programming is tailor-made to meet the needs of the students, teachers, and parents.

The school is being brought back to order and parents and teachers are continuing to function as one more economically efficient unit.
